THE DAUGHTER OF GEORGE T. HILL MAR-RIES HER CHOSEN SWEETHEART.

A ROGUS TELEGRAM ENTICES HER PARENTS AWAY-THE GIRL RUNS TO MEET HER LOVER, HER AUNT AND TWO OTHER

WOMEN IN HOT PURSUIT-SHE IS CAUGHT, BUT HER FAMILY SORROWFULLY YIELD.

Mildred Hill, daughter of George T. Hill, man-ager of a drygoods house at No. 47 Leonard-st. on Wednesday evening by the Rev. Madison C. Peters, of the Bloomingdale Reformed Church, to Frederick Mansfield. The marriage has created a sensation in society in that part of the beautiful young woman, moving in the best of society in the neighborhood, and Mansfield is the coachman of Charles F. Bates. Mr. Hill is wealthy, has a beautiful house in West Seventy-first-st. and his daughter has been brought up with the greatest care. Mansfield is about twenty-five years and has been in this country about six months in the employ of Mr. Bates. He is an Englishman, and in appearance a typical English groom.

How the coachman and the young lady first made each other's acquaintance is a mystery, known only to themselves. For some time they have been accustomed to meet each other clandestinely at the Boulevard and West Sixty-ninth-st. Some rumor of what was going on reached the ears of the young woman's parents, and they forbade her to see the coachman. She, however, declared that

On Wednesday morning Mr. Hill received a telegram purporting to come from his son, who is in college at Princeton, saying that he had broken his Mr. and Mrs. Hill went at once to Trenton, leaving a sister of Mrs. Itili in charge of the house. When the parents had been some time gone Miss Hill put on a street costume and announced that she was going out. Her aunt was informed by the servants that Miss Hill was going to meet the coachman and be married.

SHE TRIES TO ELOPE.

The aunt and the young woman went out to-dashing in. When the second weman appeared the cashier ran, thinking, as he said, that there was going to be some shouting. The young woman, just before her aunt appeared, had hidden behind a sofa. The proprietor of the flats and negro porter were also considerably startiel. Then came the other two women, and a crowd collected outside. The cashier recovered his presence of mind and came back. The aunt demanded to know where her niece was. When her hiding place was discovered. Miss Hill dashed out into the street again, but the two women with her aunt headed her off and she ran into a cigar store, where she hid behind a counter. Two of the women stood watch while the third went for a policeman. She returned accompanied by Ward Detective Faulkner. He said that all he could do was to escort the young woman home, which he did. There her aunt kept her until the return of her parents from Princeton, that the telegram was a hoax. Their son had sent no telegram, and was perfectly well. Filled with forebeddings of evil they at once returned home, where they were informed of what had taken place. Miss Hill declared that she would marry the coachman in spite of all opposition. She is twenty years old, and no legal restraint could be placed upon her.

THE MARRIAGE TAKES PLACE. After reasoning with the resolute young woman for some time to no avail, her parents decided to make the best of the matter and the coachman ive bride and bridegroom then went to the parsonage of the Bloomingdale Reformed Church at Sixty-of the Bloomingdale Reformed Church at Sixtyeighth-st, and the Boulevard, where the Rev.

Madison C. Peters, whose church the Hills attend, married Mildred Hill and Frederick Mansfield. The aunt and the mother were too much overceme by grief to witness the cremony, but the father stood by his daughter's side and signed the marriage register. After the ceremony Mr.
and Mrs. Mansfield went away together, and the family returned sorrowing to their home.
Mansfield has been about his duties as usual since the marriage, but his wife has not been seen. It is said that he has hired a small flat somewhere further uptown. Mansfield is said to be a young man of good character, and is in receipt of a fair salary from Mr. Bates. Mr. Hill is a member of the Colonial Club, and the family stand weil socially. Mrs. Hill is prostrated with grief over her daughter's marriage. Miss Hill, now Mrs. Mansfield, is a tall blonde, of more than ordinary beauty, and has remarkably beautiful eyes. Mr. Hill said last night.

"My daughter is married, and was married in my presence. She has broken her mother's heart and mine."
Charles T. Bates, the employer of Mansfield, re-

and mine."

Charles T. Bates, the employer of Mansfield, recently came into public notice through dispute between himself and a woman, as to whether or not the two were man and wife He lives at the Dakotash flats. Last night he was said, at the office of the flats, to be iii in bed and unable to see any one.

Kuchne's skill in modelling busts only made her the more desirous of going on the slage. Jefferson advised the girl to begin at the bottom of the ladder and learn the business thoroughly. He scoffed at schools. This settled it, and Kuchne changed all her plans. Shortly afterward she made her appearance in a small character in "All the Comforts of Home" at the California Theatre, and did badly, indeed. But she was beautiful, and her appearance later on attracted fitchard Mansfledt,

The latter church is not in quite so feelle a condition as there represented. The actual membership of the church is about 500, part of whom attend the services at the church, in East Forty-second-si., and part at the church, in Park-ave. The regular congregation is nearly double the num-ber given in The Tribune. It is perhaps true of the church that "its power has been waning," but it is not yet at "low ebb," During the year clos-ing last May it received from new rents and con-ing last Nay it received from pew rents and contributions for church support $1,500; for the chapel $6,000; and for missions, $7,500-in all, $25,500. It maintains at its own expense a missionary in Syria, another in the South, haif a dozen chidren in mission schools, two or three beds in hospitals, besides extending a generous hant to the missionaries in the West. At the chapel it sustains a pastor and an assistant, a Sinday-school of $60, a sewing school of $60, a Burial Cho, Coai Chib, Cheral Society, Christian Endeavor Society, Employment Society, Christian Endeavor Society, Employment Societies.

At the same time, it is becoming clear that there is hardly room for two churches, so much alike and so near tocsther, as are these two, and when a consolination was suggested by the pastor of the Brick Church to the pastor of the Church of the Covenant it was regarded as worthy of careful consideration. A committee was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the Brick Church. A FUSION RALLY AT MANASQUAN BOTH PARTIES REPRESENTED IN THE FIGHT ON THE RACETRACK GAMBLERS.

Manusquan N. J., Oct. 27 (Special).—The third of the great meetings against the racetrack ticket of the Democracy in Monmouth County was held to-night in Parker Hall. There was a large crowd of the county, was made chairman of the meeting and after briefly addressing the great throng in-troduced Theodore W. Morris, of Freehold, a retired merchant of New-York and a leading Demoerat of the county for the last twenty years, who talked plainly about the infameus work of last winter's Legislature. Ex-Procedutor of the Pleas Lanning, of Long Branch, told of the financial wreck of the county through racetrack and gambling initiences, and as a Democrat challenged hi arers to prove that the existence of Monmouth Park in the county was not a fatal drawback to his party, and a pecuniary setback of at least 50 per cent on the valuation of property in the county duce the gamblers' gang seized the politics of the county.

Frank P. McDermott, president of the Monmouth County Chizens' League, a leading lawyer of the county and lifelong Democrat, denounced the unlawful methods of the racetrack gamblers during the present racing season.

James A Bradiev, the candidate of the Republicans and Chizens' League, followed in a ringing speech, merelessly scoring the Democratic party for its subserviency to the racetrack influence.

Matthias Wolley, of Long Branch, candidate for Sheriff, Peter Forman, candidate for County Clerk, and Charles L. Walters, candidate for Assembly on the fusion ticket, followed and gave cheering reports from the different sections of the county for the success of the fusion ticket.

IT WILL PROSECUTE EWALD HATTERMAN. ARRESTED IN ENGLAND FOR EMBEZZLING FROM THE PRODENTIAL INSURANCE CO.

Ewald Heutterman, who was arrested at Southampton. England, on the arrival of the steamship Fuerst Bismarck, on which he travelled under the name of William Wendell, and who eloped with Frieda Laucks, a sixteen-year-old girl of Eliza-beth, N. J., where Heutterman lived, was made prisoner by Scotland Yard detectives at the instance of the American Surety Company of this city. Vice-President H. D. Lyman, of the Surety Company, was seen last night. After denying the report that Heutterman was an employe of the American Surety Company, he made this state-

"I will say that Heutterman was the agent in Elizabeth, N. J., for the Prudential Insurance Com-pany, and the American Surety Company was on from the insurance company and fied. We tracked him, found that he had sailed, and at once applied to the State Department at Washington for his arrest when he should reach Southampton, and for extradition papers. Our request was at once grant-We have our man, and to-morrow we expect one of our detectives to sail with the necessary papers to bring him back.

The American Surety Company will prosecute Heutterman in the court at Elizabeth, N. J., where he will be taken on his arrival. As his bondsmen, he will be taken on his arrival. As his bondsmen, we are the ones who wal lose, and therefore the ones to proceed against him."

Mr. Lyman was asked if it was true that Heulterman had borrowed large sums of money from friends in Elizabeth before his departure, and if he had deserted his wife and live children, to elope with a sixteen-year-old girl.

"I understand that to he the case," said he but it will not say anything more. Wait until he gets to trial; you will have news enough then." Some of Heutterman's friends have been to the officials of the American Surety Company to try to effect a compromise and get the Surety Com-

AROUSING THE PEOPLE TO OVERTHROW

JAMES A. BRADLEY'S ACTIVE CAMPAIGN-HIS VIEWS OF THE SITUATION.

THE GAMBLERS.

Red Bank, N. J., Oct. 27 (Special).-This week the aggressive fusionists settled upon this beautiful town as their base of operations against the gamblers' ticket, and the many raids they have made into th camp of the enemy have been fruitful of the most satisfactory results. Recruits by the score and surrenders in goodly numbers tell the story of a week's campaigning. Not the least among the number of influential men in the county who have abandoned party that they might the better serve the people is ex-Judge Pitney Curtis, of Manasquan, an old Jeffersonian Democrat, who up to last January was an honored member of Monmouth County's bench, sitting as an associate in the Court of Common Pleas with the present presiding judge, J. Clarence Conover; Aaron E. Johnson, of Howell, ex-Assemblyman from this county, and now Assistant Prosecutor of the Pleas, also a Democrat, and A. L. Moreau, Editor of "The Freehold Transcript," one of the leading organs of the Democratic party in the county. Other defections from the Democratic column in the county include a score or more of the most solid men in Middletown and Shrewsbury townships; men whose Democracy has never been impeached, but whose manhood rebels against the domination of the racetrack gamblers' influence in the councils of their party, and who have declared themselves unequivocally in favor of the fusion ticket, and who have given assurances of their intention to work and vote, for the first time in their lives, against the Democratic party, and in favor of the purity of the home and the integrity of Monmouth County. This defiant attitude of such a considerable body of citizens who have hitherto voted and acted with the Democratic party has greatly alarmed the leaders. Their organs and spokesmen now resort to vulgar abuse and vilification of the head of the Re-publican and Citizens' League ticket, James A. Bradley, who is making such a strong fight for the State Senatorship. The gallant leader of the fusion ticket chivalrously refrains from attacking any part of his opponant's public record save that bearing upon his course in the Legislature on the racetrack and gambling laws.

The weakest cry so far sent up by the frightened

Democracy is the shibboleth "Vote only for a Democrat, for the Senator elected this year has a voic and vote next year in the choice of a successor to John R. McPherson in the United States Senate." This already has acted as a sort of boomerang, and has had much to do with disgusting decent Democrats and independent citizens, who disdain association with the "Duke of Gloucester," and declare that with Mr. Bradley in the upper house of the Legislature the people may be sure at least of one Legislature the people may be sure at least of one vote that will be recorded against the impudent pretensions of "Billy" Thompson, who is pipe-laying for Senator McPherson's old shoes; and who it is publicly charged recently made the remark, "I am going to carry Monmouth if it takes my skin," and who, common rumor alleges, has further said that he would spend a barrel of money in order to secure the election of legislative candidates favorable to his ambition.

am going to carry Monmouth if it takes my skin," and who, common rumor alleges, has further said that he would spend a barrel of money in order to secure the election of legislative candidates favorable to his ambition.

Mr. Bradley is making a wonderfully aggressive campaign in Red Bank and the neignboring towns that environ Monmouth Park. He was seen yesterday in his busy headquarters nere, and the subject of "Billy" Thompson's candidacy and his interference in Monmouth County affairs was broached. When told the story that is in circulation around the county, to the effect that Thompson had boasted that he was "going to carry Monmouth County if it took his skin," the Founder replied: "Monstrous! We have more than enough of victous politics in other parts of our State. We must redeem and keep clean fair Monmouth. I deplore the introduction of legislation foreign to the interest of our grand old State—one of the original thirteen—and will strive with all my might to prevent the elevation to office of any one who would be an instrument in its further degradation by aiding in the repetition of such permicious work as characterized the doings of last year's Legislatire.

Mr. Bradley was then asked: "How can the in-

Mr. Bradley was then asked: "How can the influence of 'Hilly' Thompson and his lik best be combatted?' He replied: "By arousing the interest of the moral and 'eligious class of our community, which interest when stirred to its depth is sure to win."

"Do you regard the present campaign as likely to bring about such a result?" He arswered emphatically the population of the country with in his interest case an aspirant for Senator McPierson's seat in the limited States Senate."

WARRANT ISSUED FOR THE ARREST OF T. W FITZGERALD, OF RICHMOND COUNTY-HE BRINGS SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Justice Daniel Cornell, of Clifton, a leader of the Independent movement in Richmond County, Staten Island, yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of District-Attorney Thomas W. Fitzgerald and Exclse Comnissioner George Van Name, both of Port Richmo d. The warrants were issued on the complaints of Leeter A. Sconeld and D. J. Jones, both Republicans, who live in Northfield. It is alleged that District-Attorney Fitz-gerald, who was chairman of a mass-meeting held by the citizens of Port Richmond on February 18 last, for the citizens of Fort Richmond on February 18 last, for the purpose of nominating a board of trustees—in which nection. Van Name was one of the tellers—they tam-pered with the result of the vote. The warrants were not served, but word was sent to the two officials to call at the court. When they called resterday Justice Cornel had started for this city, and after waiting considerable return.

are fraudulent. He says that the meeting of which he was chairman was only a mass-meeting, and not a political primary, and that the charges made against him and Van Name are nothing more than a "campaign document." Mr. Fitzgerald save the act of the law on which the warrant was issued has been repealed since 1992, and that Justice Cornell had no legal grounds on which to issue a warrant. He accordingly served Justice Cornell with leval papers last evening for a civil action for $25,000 damages. He will also request Governor Flower to have the Justice impeached. Last night the District Attorney appeared in Justice Acker's court at New-Brighton and awore out warrants for the arrest of D. J. Jones and Lester A. Scotleid, the complainants, whom he charges with per-jury. Commissioner Van Name will also bring criminal action against Justice Cornell and the two complainant

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN COTTON

From The Boston Transcript.

From The Boston Transcript.

The interment of Miss Lucy Cotton in an old tomb in the King's Chapel burying ground yesterday was not in the tomb in which lie the remains of the Rev. John Cotton. He. with three other ministers of the first church, were buried in a tomb very near Tremont-st, and but a few feet from the Registry of Deeds building. His wife is buried near by. A morning paper states that Miss Cotton was almost the last descendant of Dr. John Cotton. Now, there are very many descendants living, and if we mention only prominent ones the list will include the Nathaniel Thayer family of Boston and Lancaster, and Dr. William Everett. Bishop Brooks was also a descendant.

CURRENCY PROBLEMS DISCUSSED.

CONGRESSMEN BLAND AND HARTER MEET IN

DEBATE AT MONTCLAIR, N. J. The hall of the Outlook Club was crowded at Montelair last evening on the occasion of the debate on the currency problems by Congressmen R. P. Bland, of Missouri, and M. D. Harter, of Ohio, Paul Wilcox, and both were heartily applauded. Mr. Bland advocated bimetallism and free age. "Sliver," said he, "cannot be overissued ture limits the supply. If Congress limits the age, money might as well be on a paper basis. The Eastern people can not understand bimeta because they do not know the possibilities of country."

country."
Congressman Harter, in reply, said that Mr. Biand's theory was not practical. Bemetallism always resulted in monometallism. There was not enough wisdom in a thousand Senators, he said, to know how much money the country needs. The lower house of Congress had proved itself worth a thousand Senates.
